FRIDAY..................FEBRUARY 9, 1883.

GRANT'S BILL.

There is a bill on the calendar of the House of Representatives proposing to place General Grant on the retired list of the army, with the same rank that he would have held had he not been called from the military service to the office of President. The Senate passed the bill at the last session, and we trust the House will now concur in its enactment promptly, cordially and, if it were possible, we would fain say unanimously. "Whatever differences of opinion," says the New York Tribune, "may exist as to the wisdom or unwisdom of his course as President, all parties will agree that during the war he rendered to his country services of inestimable value—services deserving every honorable recognition from the Government of the Union he aided so greatly in saving. In the public opinion of the generation now living, and in the judgment of impartial history yet to be written, five men attained a rank of merit for generalship above and beyond the great host of commanders who battled against the rebellion. Of these, Thomas and Meade sleep in honored graves; Sherman is alone to go on the retired list with the full rank and pay of General; Sheridan will in a short time assume command of the army with the rank of Lieutenant General, which is to be his for life. It is not altogether a pleasant thought that the man who came out of the war conspicuous above all for military skill, for his services and his renown, should be left in the afternoon and evening of his life unrecognized on the rolls of the army he did so much to immortalize."

DISREGARDING A LAW.

The White Pine News, in commenting on the defalcation of the late Treasurer of that county, says that some new phase of carelessness on the part of county officials is brought to light daily, and it looks as if the offices were run on the high plane of personal irresponsibility; something after the style of the Czar or Sultan—to suit themselves—paying no attention whatever to the safeguard which the State has wisely provided as a chart for their official conduct. For more than four years, according to the News, there has been no joint statement made by the Auditor and Treasurer of White Pine county, although the law requires that such a statement shall be made and published quarterly. For the enlightenment of officials, attention is directed to Section 73, page 208, Volume II, Compiled Laws, which reads as follows:

> The County Auditor and County Treasurer of each county in this State shall, on the first Monday in April, July, October and January, make a joint statement to the Board of County Commissioners, showing the whole amount of collections (stating particularly the source of each portion of the revenue) from all sources paid into the County Treasury; the funds among which the same was distributed, and the amount to each; the total amount of warrants drawn and paid, and on what funds; the total amount of warrants drawn and unpaid; the accounts and claims audited and allowed and unpaid; and the fund out of which they are to be paid; and generally make a full and specific showing of the financial condition of the county, which shall be published in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one; if not, then posted in some conspicuous place in the Court House of said county.

The regular monthly report of the Secretary of the San Francisco Benevolent Association, made to the Board of Trustees, for the past month, shows that there is a considerable amount of real poverty in the city. The Secretary says that during the past month the society rendered aid to 590 deserving hungry poor, and that nearly all those assisted were women and children.

The Eureka Sentinel publishes a statement of the expenses of Eureka county for the two years ending Dec. 31, 1882, which shows that in 1881 they aggregated $122,259 43 and in 1882 $146,361 64. The story is told, without laying all the blame to the Salary Law.

Professor Wiggins, the Canadian weather sharp, says that the storm of Friday next will be the severest known this side of the Atlantic for years.

The Silver State believes many of the economic measures of the Legislature of 1881 will be wiped from the Statutes by the Legislature of 1883.

The Directors of the Orphans' Home report the expense of providing for the orphans at $252 92 per year, or 69 cents per diem.

The Commissioners of Lander county have passed an order that the Sheriff of that county shall only be allowed one deputy.

The Lakeview (Oregon) Examiner has just entered upon its fourth year, and with an excellent prospect ahead.

COURT HOUSE RINGS.

Under the above caption the Carson Appeal has the annexed "true as gospel" article:

> An opposition is already beginning to manifest itself against Dennis' bill to compel the County Commissioners to advertise their expenditures. The opposition is made under the usual mark of economy and comes as a matter of course from what is generally known as the "Court House rings." It is claimed that this advertising will drag vast sums of money out of the treasury and dump the same into the coffers of the newspapers. It is urged on the part of the economists that it will cost ten dollars a square and all that. Now the fact is that no newspaper can charge more than $2 50 a square for advertising, under the law, and the law also compels the papers to use the smallest type found in a newspaper office, nonpareil. The object of the law is to allow taxpayers to see each month just where their money goes, and if this bill becomes a law John Doe cannot slip in a bill of $16 per cord for wood which a rival dealer would be glad to furnish for $8. It will show taxpayers who are being favored by the Board, and in many counties prevent an extravagant waste of county money. In some portions of Nevada these Boards have held secret meetings and filled the purses of their pets from the county treasuries, caused their relatives to fatten at the expense of the taxpayers and feathered their own nests besides. If they are compelled each month to advertise a sworn statement of expenditures as are the Board of Capitol Commissioners there would be a check to Court House rings. Each county officer should be compelled to spread his records before the public once a month in the columns of a county newspaper. Take a recent instance: in Storey county the experts have found a deficit of $711 in the County Clerk's office. When the county gets through paying the experts it will cost $1,000. Now, we hold that $100 a year expended in the proposed advertising would have saved all this, as no man will take the chance on a stealing proposition when his accounts are scrutinized monthly by intelligent taxpayers. The Dennis bill should become a law at once.

Mineral Lands

The following letter has been sent to the Commissioner of the General Land Office by Secretary Teller: "I transmit herewith a letter from Hon. John P. Jones, Hon. W. S. Rosecrans, Messrs. Whitman & McKee of San Francisco and W. W. Morrow of Washington, D. C., all in relation to entries of public lands in the State of California containing valuable deposits of borax. My attention is called to the fact that these deposits, although valuable, are not of sufficient value to permit their being entered under the mining laws. They ask whether the recent circular, approved September 22, 1882, and its amendment of December 9, 1882, is applicable to entries of lands containing borax and other similar valuable deposits.

"It was easily determined by the Department that the act of May 10, 1882, which described certain land containing valuable mineral deposits, was applicable to land containing deposits of borax, carbonate and nitrate of soda, sulphur, alum and asphalt, and I believe that from the passage of that law until the present time the definition of the term valuable mineral deposits has been such as to include the minerals and alkaline substances named. I understood that entries of borate lands have been allowed under the provision of the act of 1872 and the regulations in accordance therewith.

"It is the desire of persons interested that the regulations which were in existence, having special reference to applications for patents for placer claims, namely, the circular of October 31, 1881, should be continued in force, so far as they relate to deposits of borax, etc., as mentioned above. Believing that practical effect should be given to mining laws of the United States, I am of the opinion that to apply the new regulations to such entries would result in excluding such lands from sale, and depriving the people of the benefit of the use of these natural deposits. I therefore direct you to permit entries of public lands containing valuable deposits of borax, carbonate and nitrate of soda, sulphur, alum and asphalt in the States of California and Nevada and the Territories of Arizona, Utah and Wyoming, in which section of the country I am informed these deposits are present, under the regulation of October 31, 1881. In addition, however, an applicant for a patent for public lands containing deposits of borax, etc., as above, must affirmedly show that the lands entered are not valuable for any other purpose than the one for which the application is made. It will, therefore, follow that the circulars of September 22 and December 9, 1882, are not applicable to entries of the lands thus described and excepted."

Ex-Governor Cornell, of New York, spent ten days in Washington in company with Blaine and his friends, but was careful not to go near the White House.

Vincent, the State Treasurer who robbed Alabama of $300,000, has not yet been captured.

Another of the Balaklava "six hundred" has died. This reduces the ranks to about nine hundred.

Blaine's Political History.

A Washington special to the Chicago Tribune, of the 7th, says:

> It is learned that Blaine has been for some time engaged in preparing a work of political history under the title of "Twenty Years of Congress—From Lincoln to Garfield: A History of National Legislation from 1861 to 1881." This is not to be in any sense a work of reminiscence, and Blaine has told the friends with whom he has talked on the subject, that whenever it becomes necessary to allude to his own share in the events of this period, allusion will be simply historical and not personal. In other words, whenever the author appears in the book it will be as "Mr. Blaine," and not as "I." It is expected that the book will make two octavo volumes. There will be an elaborate introduction, reviewing the causes which led to the political revolution of 1860. The main work will probably be divided into two parts: First, the eight years of Lincoln's and Johnson's Administrations, dealing with the war of emancipation and reconstruction; second, the twelve years of Grant's and Hayes' Administrations, dealing with the Southern State Governments, the wrongs upon the ballot box, the currency and railroads, the Alabama claims, annexation, Civil Service Reform, etc. The main portion of the book will of course have the aid of Blaine's intimate personal knowledge of men and events of the time which it treats of. This will make its appearance an event of national importance, especially as it is understood that the history is to be a comprehensive one and is not to be confined to any particular side or phase of the anti-slavery conflict and the civil war, as has been the case with most of the histories written thus far.

The Founding of Santa Fe.

Ex-Chief Justice Prince, of New Mexico, the other day gave a New York reporter an interesting account of the preparations for the celebration of the three hundred and thirty-third anniversary of the founding of the city of Santa Fe, New Mexico, to be held during the month of July next. Two chief features of the exhibition will be the display of the historical treasures of the Territory and of its material resources. The relics of old American trappers and scouts will also form part of the exhibition. A special building will be dedicated to antiquities, another building will contain the exposition of the mineral and agricultural wealth of the Territory of New Mexico. The exhibit of gold, silver, copper, lead, coal, mica, and other minerals at the recent exhibition was the most creditable one there.

Three Good Points.

The Carson correspondent of the Eureka Sentinel, commenting upon the Warden contest, says:

> The successful candidate, Mr. Bell, is an old Nevadan, was long connected with the Western Union Telegraph Co. as Assistant Superintendent, is a man of excellent habits, has the reputation of being a thoroughly honest man and is credited with having first-class administrative abilities. Those who know him well, and his range of acquaintance is a large one, feel confident that he will prove an honest and competent Warden. And every one will be satisfied with him should he show, which all hope he will, as good a record as the retiring Warden, Major Garrard.

HORRIBLY DISFIGURED.—The Carson Appeal thus relates how friends and foes alike battered and smattered the Melarkey railroad bill in the Assembly last Wednesday:

> The Melarkey railroad bill came up in the House yesterday and there was a lively ruction over it for three hours. The railroad men amended it and the anti-railroad men amended it and the Democrats got into a little quiet row over it, and its friends were pulling in opposite directions. The result was a bill that Melarkey would pass by on the street and never recognize. After adjournment no two men could be found who had the same opinion regarding the bill, its merits, defects or whereabouts.

The New York Sun's Washington special says: It is said on good authority that Windom will go from the United States to New York to become President of a banking concern.

There will be a meeting of the Nevada Press Association in the editorial rooms of the Carson Appeal office on Sunday next, at one o'clock. All members are expected to be present, as business of importance is to be transacted.

It is not true that Johnny Cannon has engaged himself to Huscroft to punch eighteen car loads of cattle to the bay. He prefers to go with Louis Dean, who always travels by daylight, and the pair contemplate leaving Monday. Undoubtedly both will be "fired" from the train before it reaches Verdi

Representative Cassidy called upon the Secretary of War Wednesday and laid before him the resolutions adopted by the Nevada Legislature, asking that rations be given Indians in Nevada, who are starving, to tide them over the present inclement season, when it is impossible for them to procure subsistence by hunting.

Major Garrard says that the report that the employes of the State Prison resolved to leave the prison in a body when his term expired, is false in every particular, such a thing having never been thought of or suggested by any of the employes of the institution He proposes, as do also his men, to do all he can for the information of the incoming Warden.

The Montello Brigands at Elko.

Four of the Montello train-robbers, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Polk and Detectives Deal and Thacker, arrived at Elko Wednesday morning. When taken to jail they gave their names as Daniel Francis, Frank Hawley, Erasmus Anderson and Silvester Earll. The condition of Nay would not admit of his removal from Salt Lake at present. Judge Bigelow will call a special Grand Jury to-day when it is anticipated the bandits will plead guilty and the whole matter will be quickly disposed of.

Just the Same.

Whether times be dull or good, the true business man endeavors to treat his customers always the same. Such is the case with Clem Lemery, of the Arcade, and you will find that a dinner or breakfast given there cannot be surpassed by any house in town.

Reclamation of Desert Land.

The Carson Appeal says: "Senator Marker, of Washoe county, has introduced a bill which, if passed, will materially assist in the reclamation of our desert lands and which will provide a source of permanent revenue for the State. The bill provides for the appointment of a Reclamation Board, consisting of five members including the Governor and Surveyor General as ex-officio members. This Board will have power to utilize water available for irrigation, of which there is an ample quantity if judiciously used, with the authority to construct necessary ditches. Over three-fourths of the 2,000,000 acre school grant can be profitably cultivated if water for irrigation could be secured by the class of people who are willing to settle upon and improve small quantities of land. The bill provides that the Board shall select suitable places where there is available water and as soon as water is ready for use notify the owners of the land, whether of large or small tracts and from that time charge a yearly water rental of one dollar per acre. In addition to providing a perpetual source of revenue, this bill, if it is passed, will rapidly increase the school fund by enlarging the sale of the lands. It will also have the effect of preventing, to a great extent, any monopoly of large tracts by non-residents, as the water tax of one dollar per acre, which will be levied as soon as the water is ready for use, while falling lightly upon those who are actual settlers and cultivators, will deter those who aim to get possession of great areas and hold them for speculative purposes. It will also more economically utilize the water which now, under individual control, is wasted to a greater extent than is generally understood even in those districts where there is a cry of scarcity of water. Settlers of small means would gladly purchase from forty to one hundred and sixty acres of our really fertile sagebrush lands if they were assured that water for irrigation could be obtained, and we would thus, in spite of the general belief that this State is a desert, have a permanent agricultural foundation upon which to build the future prosperity of Nevada."

"A Good Citizen and Good Republican."

Of the new Warden the Carson Appeal speaks as follows

It is a general rule to hear considerable growling after a caucus, but in this instance the defeated candidates unite in speaking in the highest terms of the man who is to be the next Warden of the Penitentiary. Mr. Bell has lived many years in Nevada, and is a good citizen and a good Republican. He combines splendid executive ability with an honest record and the respect of his fellow men wherever known. Of the outgoing Warden, Major Garrard, nothing can be said of a derogatory character even by so partisan a newspaper as the Appeal His regime has been marked with honesty, good management and firm discipline, tempered with kindness, and nothing but old established party traditions, the propriety of which is pretty generally admitted, could ever excuse the retirement from the State's service of so good an officer The Appeal welcomes the coming and speeds the parting guest.

House Hunting in Portland.—Tom Stephens, the well-known Bodie limb of the law, who recently went to Portland, Oregon, in a letter to the Bodie Free Press, is, apparently, giving a bit of his own experience in the following:

There is a good demand for all classes of labor throughout the entire country at the present time, and no man who is willing to work need go idle here. As soon as Spring opens there will be an immense amount of building started in this city, and in every other town of importance on the Sound Houses are a very scarce article here You cannot get one for love or money, without you know of a family that is going to move out, then you sit one of your family on the doorstep and the others must be scattered among the real estate agents and the owner of the house. If any one comes looking for the house your member on the doorstep politely informs the caller that the house was engaged by you a month before the other party moved out. But this will be overcome in time.
